AN INVITATION FROM THE National Federation of Municipal Analysts NFMA

The NFMA is a group of municipal analysts and industry professionals dedicated to credit analysis, education, legal and regulatory matters and information flow.

The NFMA was incorporated as a not-for-profit organization in 1984.

The NFMA invites you to join our dynamic organization to.....

- > make a difference in the municipal bond industry
- > further your education
- > develop networking opportunities
- > get involved on a local level via NFMA constituent societies
- > and have fun!

Make a difference: Get involved with any one of a number of projects initiated by the Board of Governors such as Best Practices in Disclosure, White Papers, Securities Law, and IRS initiatives.

Further your education: Stay up-to-date on the latest developments in municipal bond analysis by attending NFMA introductory and advanced seminars and training courses, the annual conference, and constituent society seminars and events.

Develop networking opportunities:

Get to know the nearly 1000 municipal bond professionals in the organization and its 6 constituent societies. Your reach is as close as around the corner or as wide as across the country. Take advantage of the NFMA website which includes job postings.

Get involved on a local level via NFMA constituent societies:

Membership in one of 6 local societies automatically enrolls you in the NFMA. For one modest annual fee, you can be a part of the only group of professionals in the nation whose focus is the municipal credit analysis. You can join a local society in New York, Boston, Minneapolis, Chicago, California or the South. If you are not close to a society, you can join as an Affiliated Individual.

Have fun: Develop relationships that will last a lifetime.

The NFMA publishes an electronic newsletter for its members three times a year and gives you access to the membership directory.

Cost: Dues levels vary from society to society, ranging from $80 to $160/year.

Contact: Lisa Good, NFMA Executive Director at 412-341-4898 or lgood@nfma.org. The online Membership Application can be found at www.nfma.org.
