

Jason Pollack

Jason has worked in municipal finance since 2008 and joined Wells Fargo's Public Power Commercial Banking team as a relationship manager in 2017, covering West, Mountain, and Central region utilities. Prior to that, he was a Director at National Public Finance Guarantee Corporation (MBIA) responsible for new business generation and portfolio surveillance with a significant focus on California and western region debt.

Jason serves as a Board Member for the National Federation of Municipal Analysts, and is currently Vice Chair, having also served as Secretary. He is an active member the Power Agency of Northern California, the Northwest Public Power Association, the CFA Society of San Francisco, and the San Francisco Municipal Bond Club.

Jason received his B.A. in international relations from Colgate University, his M.B.A. from Yale University, and he is a CFA charterholder.